Re: Certified Payrolls and Wage Hub

The County of Hudson is pleased to be working with your company! As part of your public works contract, your company is required to provide certified payrolls to New Jersey Wage Hub (https://www.nj.gov/labor/lwdhome/press/2024/20240717_publicworks.shtml).

In the interest of efficiency, after a public works contract is awarded, the County will add the project and will be the owner of the project in Wage Hub. Once the County has added the project, a notification from New Jersey Wage Hub will be sent to your designated representative. Once that occurs, you may upload your certified payroll records. Please do not add your project to Wage Hub. If we find a project added by the contractor, we will ask you to change the status to “completed” and upload the certified payroll records to the project created by the County Public Agency Compliance Officer (“PACO”).

You can submit your certified payroll records to the New Jersey Wage Hub at: <https://njwages.nj.gov/>. Note that you are still required to include certified payroll records with all payment applications when submitted.

You can find more information regarding our Compliance Office at the following website: Hudson County Compliance Office

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation.
